

Greeley schools to participate in International Walk to School Day

Greeley Tribune – Monday, October 7, 2013

Meeker and Shawsheen elementary schools will celebrate International Walk to School Day on Wednesday as approximately 300 students will walk or bike to school with parents, teachers and community leaders.

Special activities are planned that include welcoming walkers and bikers to school with balloons, music and special prizes, and classes will compete for the highest participation.

The event, sponsored by Make TODAY Count!, is to remind everyone of the joy of walking to school, the health benefits of regular daily activity and the need for safe places to walk and bike.

For more information, contact Carlee Rosen at crosen.alliance@nocooha.org or (970) 350-4673. For more about Make TODAY Count!, visit maketodaycount.org.